QUALIFICATIONS EXPLAINED

Access to Higher Education (HE)

Our Level 3 Access to Higher Education courses prepare you to study for a degree and are designed for people who left school without the usual qualifications. You can enrol on an Access to HE course to help you return to learning and progress to degree level study.

HNC and HND - Higher National Certificate/Diploma

A Higher National Certificate or Diploma is a vocational qualification that gives you the skills to put your knowledge into use for a particular job. Highly valued by employers, they offer an alternative route into Higher Education. A HNC usually takes one year of full time study or two years of part time study and equates to completing your first year at university. A HND usually takes two years of full time study, three years of part time study or one year as a 'top up' if you have already completed a HNC. A HND qualification can sometimes allow direct entry to a third year degree programme.

HN Flex

HN Flex offers students the chance to study stackable skills within a single BTEC Higher National qualification from our range of subjects, with the progression opportunity to a Higher National Certificate (HNC) or Higher National Diploma (HND) qualification, achieving a Certificate of Unit Credit (CoUC) upon completion of the individual units studied.

Foundation Degrees

A foundation degree is a qualification which combines academic study with workplace learning. They are designed and developed with employers and are the equivalent to studying for the first two years at university.

Degrees

Upon completion of your HND or foundation degree you can top up your degree to Bachelor's level, equating to a third year of university. Our range of degree courses continues to expand and are widely supported by employers who contribute to the development of these courses.

Higher Apprenticeships

Higher Apprenticeships are a great alternative route to achieving higher level qualifications. They are a nationally accredited work-based programme designed to meet employer needs to build a well qualified workforce. Many Higher Apprenticeships include degree, HNC or foundation degree programmes, others include higher level professional courses such as AAT and ILM. They will allow you to learn at degree level with subsidised tuition fees and the opportunity to earn as you learn.

Degree Apprenticeships

Degree Apprenticeships combine working with studying part time. Apprentices spend part of their time at Cambria University Centre and the rest with their employer. They can take three years to complete, depending on course level. Degree Apprenticeships are still quite new, so there are a limited number of vacancies. It's anticipated that the number of vacancies will grow over the next year or two.

Professional Development

Professional development courses can help you to progress in the workplace and accelerate up the career ladder. A broad range of professional development routes have been established to support many ranges of career development and progression. Cambria offers professional development in many areas accredited by NEBOSH, IOSH, CIPD, AAT, PRINCE2® and ILM.

PCET - PGCE/ PCE Post Compulsory Education and Training

The Professional Graduate Certification in Education (PGCE) and the Professional Certificate in Education (PCE) are one or two year academic qualifications that are studied either after a degree (PGCE) or after a Level 3 qualification (PCE). The PGCE/PCEs offered by Cambria University Centre will give you the skills and knowledge to teach in the post-compulsory education and training sector e.g Further Education, work-based learning and adult education.

Lukas Stevenson HNC & HND in Animal Management

As a trained chef working in Poland, I realised that my true passion lay beyond the kitchen, I wanted to work with animals and make a difference in the natural world. This led me to study HNC and HND Animal Management at Cambria's Northop site.

The invaluable guidance I received, combined with the outstanding facilities, enabled me to progress directly to university-level study. During my first year, I had the opportunity to explore various career paths, and by my second year, I discovered how to merge my interests into something truly meaningful.

I combined a family holiday with a work placement, volunteering on coral reef restoration whilst scuba diving in Thailand — an experience that transformed my life.

The continuous support and encouragement from my course tutor throughout my studies gave me the confidence to follow my dreams. Since completing my MSc in Marine Biology, I am now preparing to begin a PhD in Thailand — a journey that all began at Cambria, Northop.
